Dear Leadership Seminar in Israel Alumni,

We are writing to request your attendance at the next meeting of the Law Enforcement Advisory Council hosted by the ADL New England Regional Office on Wednesday, April 17, 2019 from 7:45 to 9:00 am, at ADL, 40 Court Street, Boston. Breakfast will be served.

We are pleased that this meeting will feature a briefing by one of our Senior Investigative Researchers from ADL's Center on Extremism. The speaker will discuss the work of ADL's Center on Extremism, the current state of white supremacy and will provide highlights and insights from ADL's recently released report Murder and Extremism in the United States in 2018. Among the key findings of the report is that right-wing extremists were responsible for all but one of the 50 extremist-related murders ADL has documented for 2018, making them responsible for more deaths than in any year since 1995.

Please RSVP by Monday, April 8th to Jake Stuckey at jstuckey@adl.org or (617) 406-6364. We look forward to seeing you there.

Sincerely,

(U//FOUO) On September 14, 2019, at approximately 0330 and 0345 local time, open sources reported that two Aramco oil facilities, Khurais and Abqaiq, in Saudi Arabia were struck by explosive projectiles. The Houthis, a rebel group fighting against the Yemeni government, claimed they carried out the attack utilizing unmanned aerial systems (UAS). This UAS operation would be the most successful and significant operation the Houthis have yet achieved against Saudi Arabia. One of the facilities, Abqaiq, is the largest oil processing facility in the world. Approximately 5.78 million barrels a day of Saudi Arabia's total oil output, equating to a total of five percent of the global crude oil supply, has been eliminated. The loss has caused significant spikes in oil prices across the globe.

If so, I will be sure to send any handouts to you by the end of the day on Friday, if that timing works. I will plan to bring my PowerPoint presentation with me on a thumb drive on Monday.

Looking forward to it!

Hi Mark:

After speaking with Melissa, I was actually thinking that just one day for the training might work well – I understand that last year, Melissa led one, 4 hour training with the entire class (170+) in the cafeteria/chow hall, and she thought that worked perfectly.

Is this something you might be able to accommodate? If so, I could do the morning or afternoon on any of the dates below (June 4-6).

Thank you!

Best,
Amy

Hi Mark:

It was very nice speaking with you this week regarding an ADL hate crimes training at the Academy. I was able to connect with Melissa yesterday, and it sounds like she found a 4-hour training with the entire class (in the cafeteria / chow hall) to be very effective last year. If possible to follow a similar structure this year, I have plenty of flexibility on the following dates.

Week 18 – May 21, 22

Week 20 – June 4, 5

Have a wonderful weekend.

Best regards,

Amy
